

Navigation Bar

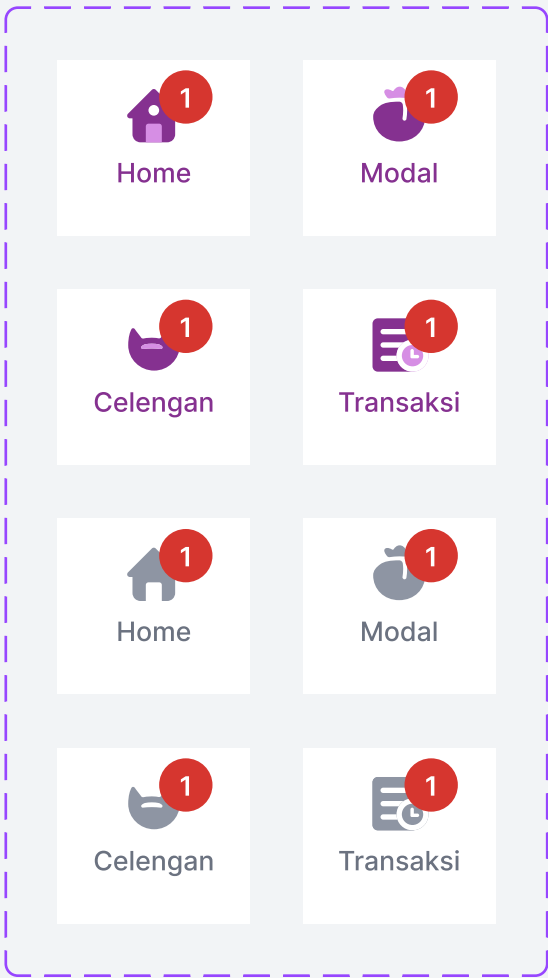

A navigation bar is a horizontal strip that contains links or buttons to various sections or pages of a website or application. It often includes a logo or branding element on the left side and a set of navigation links on the right side.

Status: Design approved Dev done

Last updated: 18 Desember 2024

Documentation: Zeroheight • Storybook Soon

❖ Master component

States

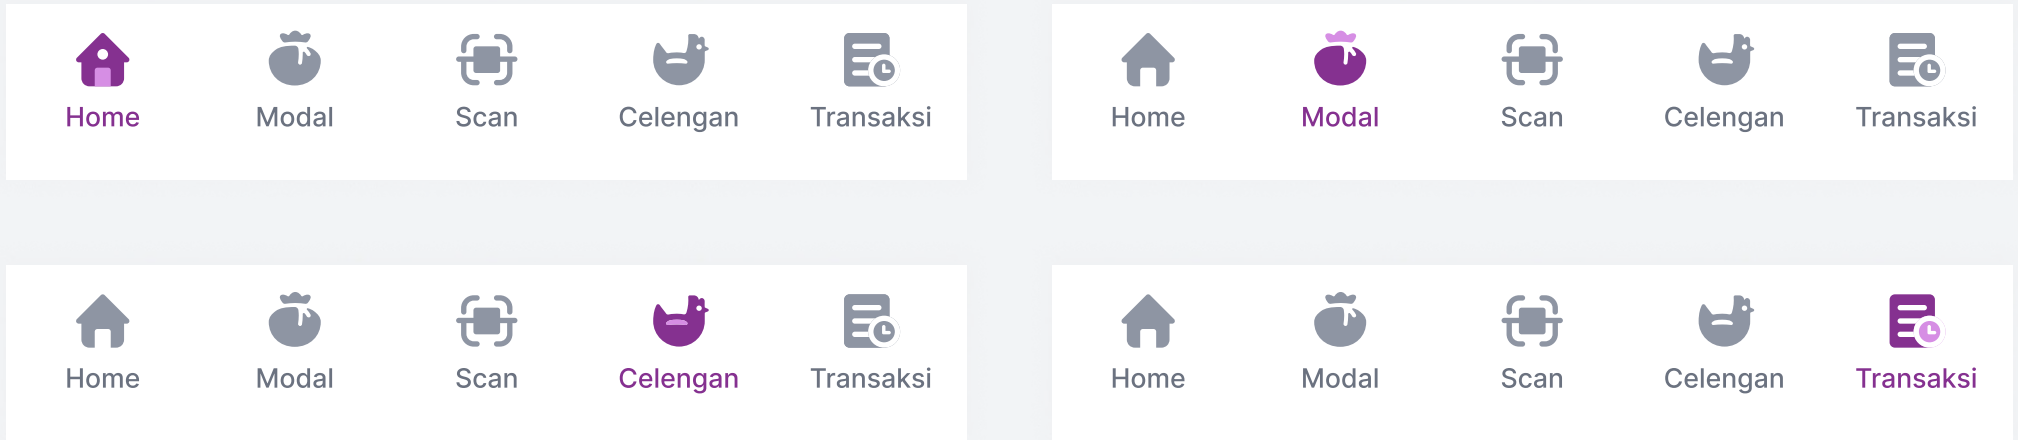

Navigation Bar has 2 states, learn about the hierarchy and how to use them in the Zeroheight documentation.

Properties

Variant

Changes the visual appearance of the Button. Combine variants with tones to create different levels of visual emphasis and hierarchy.

Badging

The navigation bar supports badges to indicate new information or a required action in a particular section.

